GCC — The Places . . .

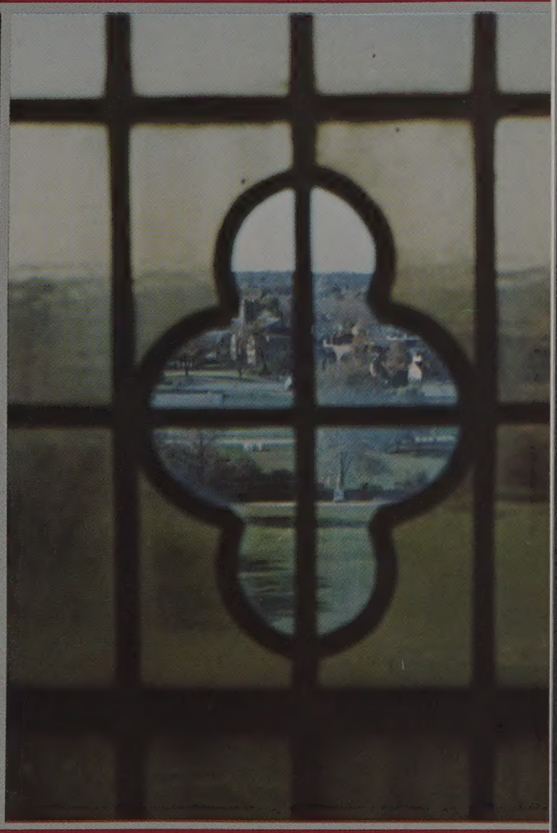

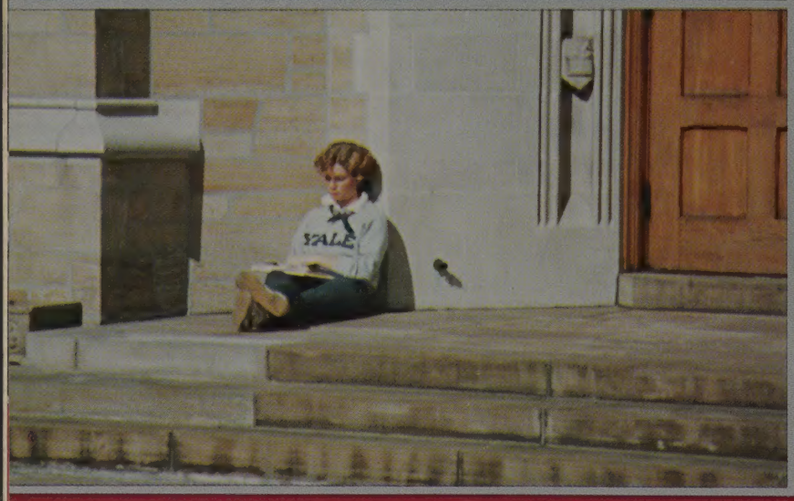

. . . And The Faces

The students at Grove City can be described in one phrase — adaptive to change. In the midst of staunch tradition, required chapels, Saturday morning classes, and "Walking On Walks," flows a current of transition through the campus of G.C.C.

The year 1982-1983 brought with it a new computer major, renovations in Rockwell, a new Dean of Men, and shorter fraternity pledging. Days were spent with hours of studying, trips to men's basketball games, and sessions with Jane Fonda.

Psychologists tell us that change is a healthy facet of life, but, in the midst of that change, we still retain enough campus tradition to keep us forever "Grovers."

Nobody Rained On Our Parade

"Orbit Oberlin" was the winning float, built by Pans and Gamma Sigs.

Sweethearts were Sandy Stemitz, Kappa Alpha Phi; Caryl Stephens, Pan Sophic; Laurel Jones, Chi Delta Epsilon; Ann Hickly, Nu Lambda Phi; Cheri Haswell, Delta Iota Kappa; Kathy Jo Phillips, Sigma Alpha Sigma; Joanne Iacobucci, Epsilon Pi; Rosemary Ruberg, Adelphikos; Shelley Bellis, Omicron Xi; Marybeth Steele, Phi Tau Alpha.

Balmy, autumn weather brought with it friends, faculty and alumni to the campus of Grove City for the observance of Homecoming '82.

The sunny day sparked sunny smiles along the morning parade route while later in the afternoon, fans assembled in Thorn Field to support the Wolverines in their clash against Oberlin College.

Prior to the football game, the 1982 Homecoming queen was announced while the fraternity sweethearts and court were presented to the on-lookers. During halftime, the award-winning floats were announced. The festivities ended with the annual dance in Ketler Rec.

Old acquaintances, fraternity and sorority members, recent graduates and families of present students bid their farewells as Homecoming '82 drew to a close for yet another year.

Cheerleaders led cheers of "Victory" during the parade.

"Aloha" From Hawaii

Last fall, the idea of spending 3 weeks in the sunny tropics of Hawaii was a far-fetched dream — or was it? When the 14 girls composing the 1982-83 women's varsity basketball team got together with this dream, there was no stopping them. They set their goal and worked toward it with inspired determination. The outcome — 3 weeks of paradise!

The Aloha state welcomed everyone with the expression of love and goodwill known as island hospitality. At ease from the first, the girls built a storehouse of wonderful memories.

The beautiful island of Oahu found its way into the heart of each tourist. During the 17 day journey, they learned a great deal about Hawaii's charm. They learned a bit about the history behind the fascinating islands, and what kind of people have turned Hawaii into the "melting pot of the Pacific."

For 10 days the Grove City contingent of 29, and 74 from Elizabethtown College, stayed on the main campus of the University of Hawaii in the Manoa Valley, a few miles outside the Honolulu city limits. Here they celebrated the New Year as the festive occasion was meant to be: from the towering balconies of the dorms, they witnessed thousands of fireworks brilliantly displayed throughout Waikiki.

Many of the girls were impressed with the sports. Hawaiian recreations are proverbially sea-oriented. From surfing, snorkeling, and windsurfing, to paddling outrigger canoes and sailing catamarans, the women experienced many new adventures.

Moving to the Moana Hotel in downtown Waikiki, they got a glimpse of city life. With the beach on one side, and Waikiki's main shopping avenue on the other, they kept busy.

"I'd have to say that one of the girls' biggest highlights was seeing and photographing Tom Selleck, of Magnum P.I. fame," said Coach Terry Ellis. "Our day at Hanuama Bay was one of the best days we had," admitted Coach Ellis, who insisted upon practice almost every day. Hanuama Bay is a scenic swimming and snorkeling spot located outside the remains of an old crater. "It was an absolutely beautiful day. We cooked hot dogs, went swimming and snorkeling — it was beautiful. Definitely one of the best days there."

They also enjoyed the alumni party at Scott and Maggie Vergien's home on the north side of the island near Kailua Bay. The girls were treated to lunch at the Touchdown Club by Mr. and Mrs. John Kotrady, '33.

Second only to their memories were their two victories over Hawaii Pacific College on record-counting games. Two exhibition games against Guelph University of Canada and Brigham Young University's branch campus also resulted in victories.

When the Grove City's women's basketball team discovered the lush island kingdom, they found a small paradise in our 50th state. Their memories, captured in pictures, will often remind them of the dominant spirit of Hawaii. This spirit is reflected in the word Aloha, spreading love and goodwill.

White, sandy beaches and gentle rolling surfs line the beautiful islands.

An excursion on rented mopeds kept Karen, Jody and Betsy outside and in the Hawaiian sunshine.

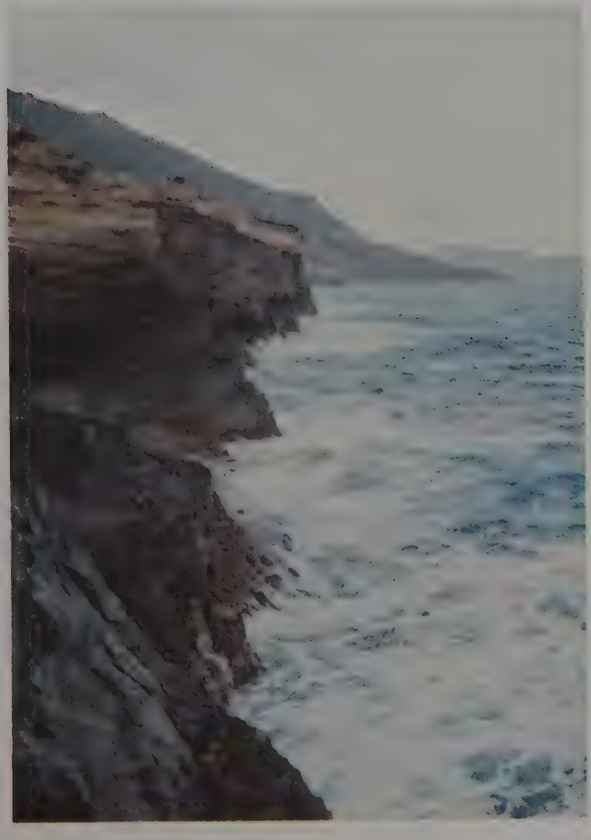

Karen Easterday demonstrates the mainland way of becoming Hawaiian.

Rocky cliffs and pounding waves lace the shores of the islands.

Strewn throughout the inland waters were stationary coral reefs.

After arriving in Hawaii, the team's mind seems far from working on the courts, and instead, working on a good tan!

ROYALTY, RHYTHM AND ROMANCE

Angel Flight is a national service honorary comprised of college men and women who support the United States Air Force, the ROTC program, the Arnold Air Society, the campus and the community. Although it is mainly a civilian group, cadets are welcomed to become members. Angel Flight is sponsored by Grove City College's Arnold Air Society. Each year, the two organizations join forces and sponsor the only formal dance on campus; the ROTC Military Ball.

This year, Petra Gage was crowned as "Little Major," at the military ball and "Little Colonel" at the area conclave held in Boston in November. Laura Short replaced Petra as the "Little Major" here on campus while Petra carried out her duties on the area level. In April, Petra competed nationally at the Arnold Air Society and Angel Flight conclave in Memphis, Tennessee.

May Day '83: Rhythm, Royalty . . . and Raindrops

Through the echo of raindrops from outside rang the tapping of dancers from within the arena as May Day '83 began with the coronation ceremony of May Queen Diana Gonzalez. Accompanied by the theme "The Beat Goes On," members of modern dance welcomed parents, alumni, faculty and the court with their renditions of various songs through ballet, tap and modern dancing.

Earlier in the day, awards were received in Harbison Chapel by deserving students of the college, peaking with the announcement of Outstanding Senior Man and Woman of 1983, Bob Crow and Mary McDonald.

Activities during the day ranged from a student presentation of art in Pew to one-act plays sponsored by Theta Alpha Phi. Though the rain caused the cancellation of all sports activities, the raindrops did not dampen the spirits of those participating groups at Greek Sing Competition. May Day 1983 . . . a day packed with memories of royalty, awards, accomplishments, parents, dancers, alumni, raindrops and sunny smiles.

Great Expectations

"Dare to do our duty" became the answer spotlighted by California Senator, Peter Wilson, speaker at Grove City College's 103rd Commencement Exercises held on May 14 in the GCC arena. The smiles of the 510 graduates radiated their excitement as they dreamed of their great expectations in graduate school or in the job market.

Conferring of degrees was conducted by GCC President, Dr. Charles MacKenzie, and baccalaureate speaker was the Rev. Dr. Jerry Kirk of Cincinnati.

Seniors could not help but to reflect on the swift, four years now suddenly behind them; years of study, practical jokes, chapel requirements, cramming, labwork, computer time, Homecomings, tears, sharing and life-long friendships.

Though graduated and on their separate ways, the senior class of 1983 will be remembered for their sentimental contributions to friends, their scholastic endeavors at their college and their striving ambition for their individual futures.

GREEK ACCENTS

Beta Mu's, t-shirting, greetings and late night creek swims all claim themselves unique to the language of the twelve hundred and fifteen individuals belonging to Grove City College's Greek system.

The development of sisterhood and brotherhood is to foster sentiments of friendship and fellowship among those sharing common interests and ideas. For some, that sharing is unity through mutual understanding; for others, it is harmony through diversity.

Grove City College offers an autumn and spring opportunity in which any female may opt to join a sorority, while fraternities seek prospective members only in the spring.

While the craziness of college life epitomizes itself in the "traditions" of pledging, the main emphasis of any pledge activity is to promote unity of the class, thereby strengthening the organization.

The Greek accents are definitely heard at GCC. Cries of "Alpha Beta Tau," and "Kappa Alpha Phi" in the early morning air confirms the presence of the Greeks to those questioning the craziness of it all.

Larry Hilovsky hides nothing in the camera's eye.

THAT'S ENTERTAINMENT!

The Fine Arts are thought to be outlets of a person's emotions or convictions that are often harder to verbalize than to express through music or dance. At Grove City College, that fine arts are alive and thriving in forms of symphonic bands, modern and classical dancing, childrens' theatre and water ballet shows.

Pew Fine Arts Center houses the fine arts at Grove City, allowing the student to utilize the spacious facilities for practices and performances alike.

In addition to student entertainment, GCC sponsors a Cultural Series yearly, consisting of acts from all over the United States.

Auditions are periodically held for orchestra, band, dance and theatre, allowing any student on campus to become active.

Most participants in the fine arts at GCC agree that a lot of work, sweat and dedication are expelled for an effective performance. But, after the final performance, one can always sit back and say, "Ah, that was entertainment!"

Wanted: A Job!

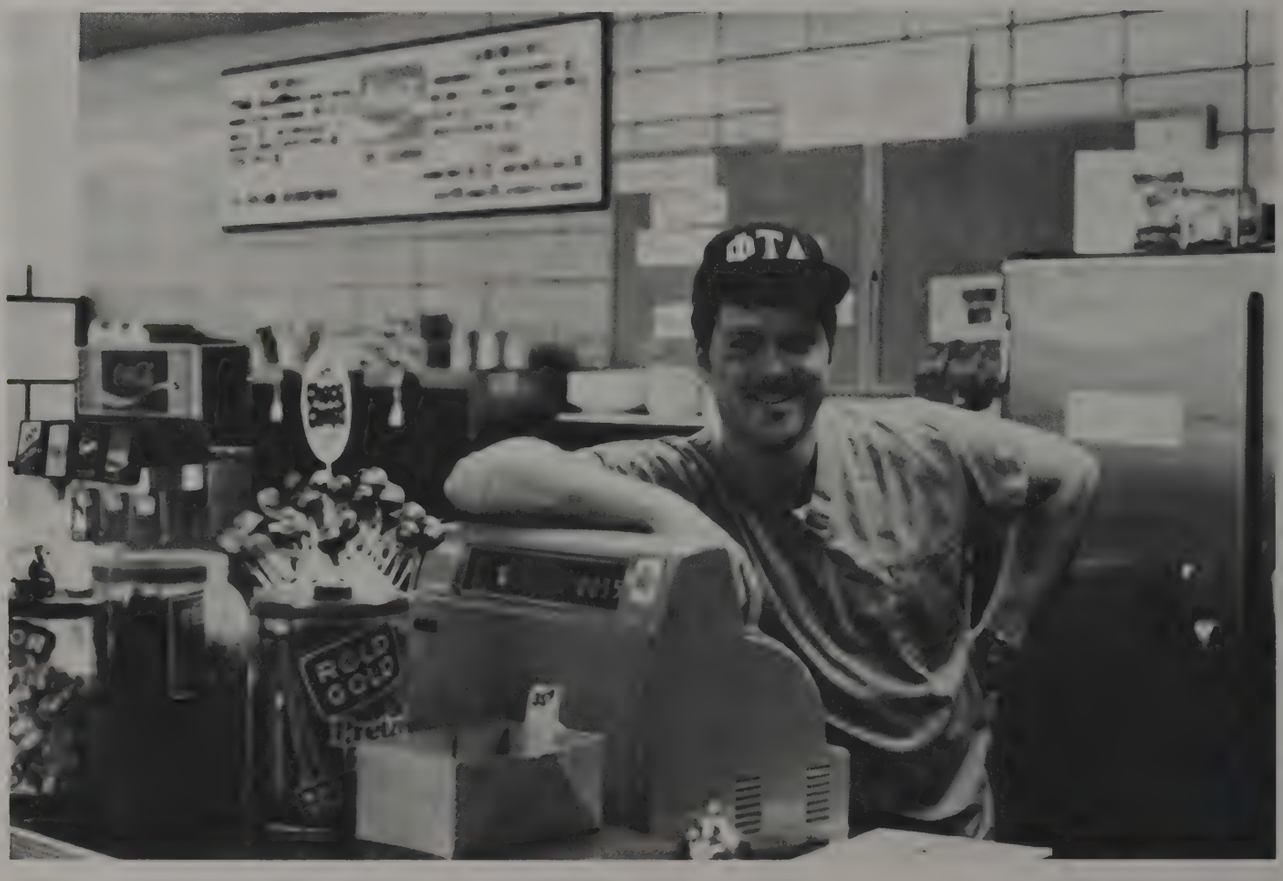

With the rising cost of tuition and the ominous scarcity of employment, Grove City students attempted to close the financial gap by seeking employment from GCC. In addition to studying, 30% of Grove City students contributed 2-12 hours of their week to some type of service to the college; assisting in the computer center, washing dishes in Hicks or MAP cafeterias, working long evenings at the buzzer desk, preparing food in the Gedunk and teaching as a lab assistant. Students are paid $2.65 an hour, giving a student enough money for laundry, for a movie or for that extra pizza on the weekends.

In the midst of a year of employment uncertainties, it was comforting for 30% of Grove City College to know that they possess a rare asset . . . a job!

OB '82 — WHAT A CREW!

"Come On Board" — a theme known too well by the incoming freshmen who were fortunate to work with the crew of upperclassmen comprising Orientation Board. Orientation Board is a group of students whose main goal is to welcome and to settle incoming freshmen into their rooms, the college and the schedule of an active college student. Moving day, vespers, beach parties, mattress races, computer dances and Big Sis-Lil Sis functions are included in the list of the many activities aimed to make a new freshman feeling secure and comfortable at Grove City College.

Tug-O-War is one activity enjoyed by freshmen.

Jenny Friend carries a freshman's baggage to Ketler.

Cille Morse demonstrates the proper way to hula at OB's beach party.

Watermelon eating contests, mattress races, flour relays and water balloon tosses enable freshmen to get acquainted with people in their own class.

Gedunk — (gā • dŭnk'), Ger. doughnut

Though originally unique to Germany, the word 'Gedunk,' affectionately known as the Gee, has become unique to Grove City College as location for food, faculty and fun. During the year 1982-83, the Gedunk has become the center of campus, a place to meet parents and friends between classes, to buy a hamburger and fries, to find late night excitement and to be assured of the presence of a family of professors in the corner table.

The Gedunk is managed by employees of the college and students also employed by Grove City. As a sentimental post for fraternity meetings or a late night study center, the Gee will always be considered a second home to any Grover.

Bill Shannon awaits his order of food.

Parents' Day fills the Gee to its capacity.

Gamma Chi pledges patrol the Gee during pledging.

Employees relax between shifts.

T.G.I.F!

When Monday afternoon seems to drag and Wednesday's lab crawls to an end, most students wil admit that a prayer for a premature weekend is first on their lists.

Weekends at Grove City are truly unique. Unlike surrounding colleges, Grove City students rarely spend their Saturday mornings in bed but rather behind a desk and in front of a lecturing professor. In addition, weekends offer an ideal opportunity for catching up on that base tan, warming-up that pitching arm, running an extra mile, attending a good movie or just relaxing and reflecting with friends. Increasing numbers of students tend to pack their suitcases and head to the homefront for two days of rest and homecooking. However, ice cream socials, SGA movies, raquetball tournaments and snowball fights keep many Grovers on campus to savor every moment of the weekend before a Monday morning class. Though the weekdays hold many exciting activities in which a Grover can participate, Friday seems to bring with it countless tongue-in-cheek "T.G.I.F.'s!!"

Weekends are a good time to catch up on that lost sleep!

Beyond The Grove

Beyond the pressure of classes and the worry of deadlines that are so unique to GCC, exists an outside world of national and international happenings that directly affects each GCC student. Political, economical and social waves permeated Grove City's walls in 1982-1983 to make the weekly headlines of The Collegian.

The year of 1982-83 hit home for Grove City seniors as America's unemployment rate skyrocketed with Pennsylvania at the top of the list. Steelworkers, factory workers and graduating seniors found it difficult to enter a depleted job market.

In addition, solidarity attempts continued in Poland, while OPEC struggled to maintain their position as an effective oil cartel. The royal family celebrated the birth of a son, while America celebrated the introduction of ET, the lovable extra-terrestrial. The weather, packed with Colorado blizzards, Louisiana floods and Texan tornadoes, proved to be the most temperamental since 1952. Time magazine named the computer "Man of the Year," the first time ever that an inanimate object had been named to that position. While, Broadway added the hit smash Cats to their repertoire. The shooting death of American representatives in El Salvador was mourned by friends and politicians alike, and on the same continent Pope John Paul strove to close the gap between individuals of the world.

Beyond the Grove, the changes of the world happen quicker than the blink of an eye; changes affecting each one of us.

Steelworkers surrendered to unemployment lines.

Princess Di gave birth to the new royal heir.

Soldiers mourn the death of an American.

The computer replaced hundreds of jobs.

Pope John Paul promotes world togetherness.

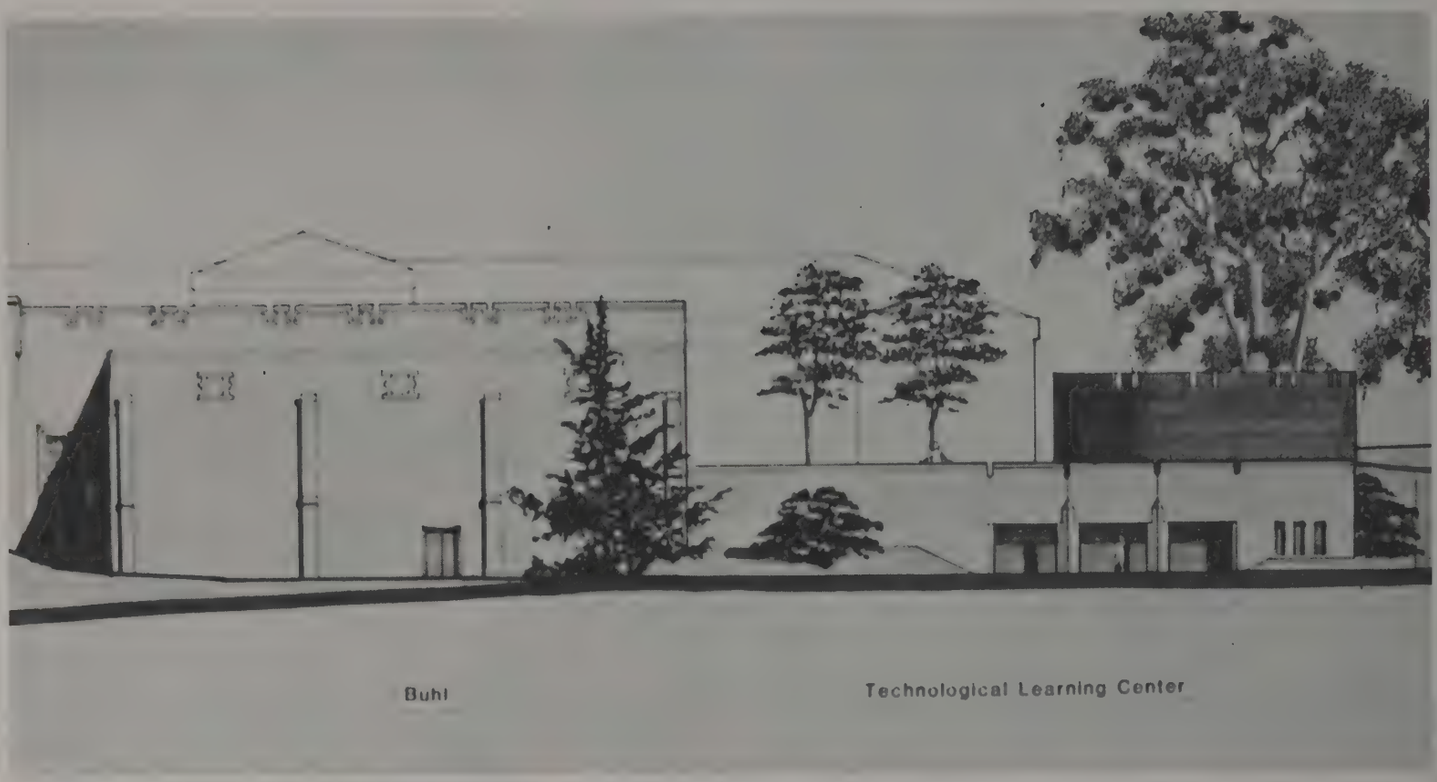

Torrential rains flooded Louisiana.

Odds And Ends

Buhl

Technological Learning Center

Through the excitement of personal accomplishments at GCC, we tend to discard the odds and ends occuring at the college throughout the year. The college year of 1982-1983 held numerous events that shaped the lives of every student and faculty member at GCC.

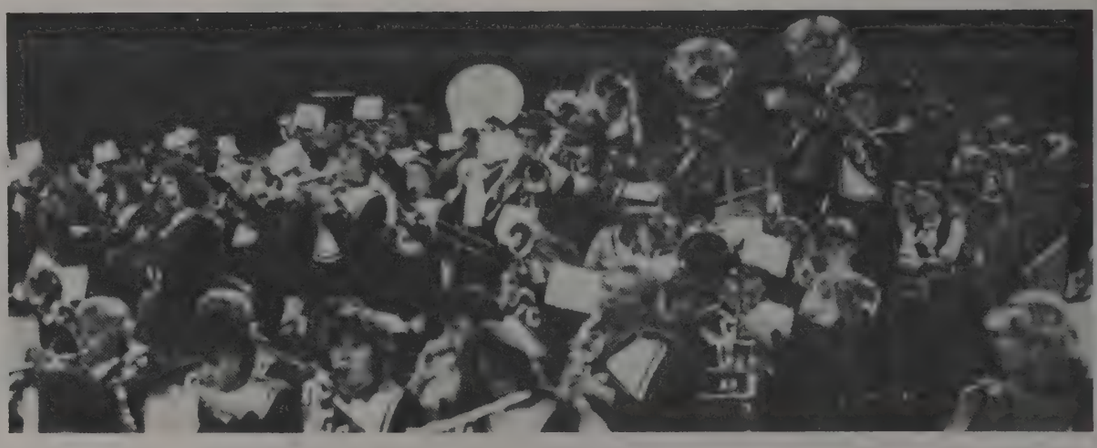

1982-1983 invited change in the face of Grove City's campus. The month of April introduced the blueprints of a new Technological Learning Center to be erected behind Henry Buhl Library and to be dedicated to Dr. Weir C. Ketler. In addition, Rockwell Hall underwent further positive renovations.

To be erected by '84 is a new tech. center.

Students enjoyed the sounds of Fireworks.

GCC Marching Band entertained the crowd at Three Rivers.

Dr. Hilda Kring receives the Florence MacKenzie Award.

Lady Wolverines enjoy a vacation in Hawaii.

Grovers enjoyed the entertainment of Fireworks and Petra, Christian concerts sponsored by Salt Company, while the Cultural Series introduced students to opera with "The Marriage of Figaro."

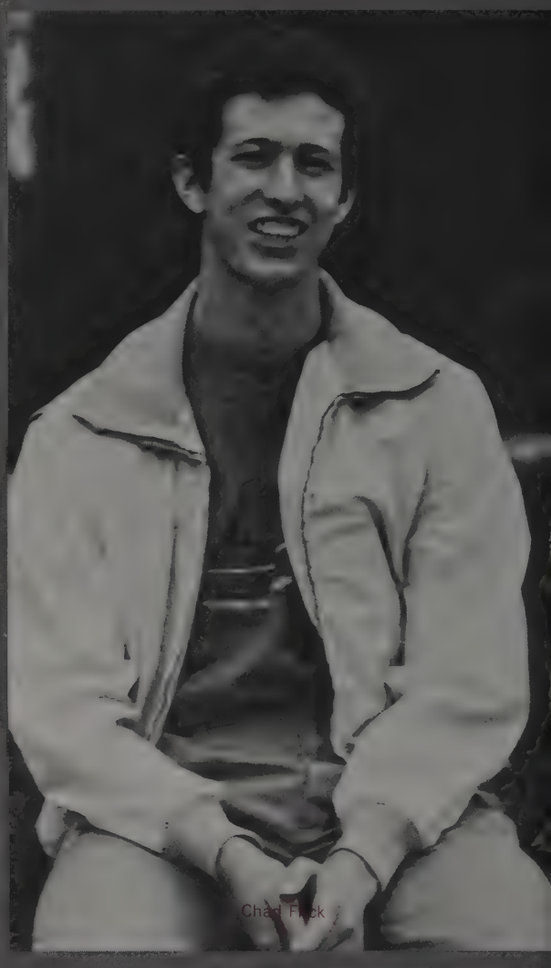

Dr. Hilda Kring received the Florence E. MacKenzie Campus-Community Award for her attempt to strengthen a positive relationship between the college and the community. The Wolverine Marching Band accompanied the GCC gridders to Three Rivers Stadium for a debut appearance during halftime, while the gridders fought it out on artificial turf. Run-A-Thons, Dance-A-Thons, Volleyball Marathons and Raquetball tournaments became successful in raising funds for cancer and MS.

When collected together, the odds and ends of the 1982-83 college year exposed a year packed with accomplishments and positive advancements.

The hard work that is put into producing a good yearbook often goes unnoticed. Yearbook staffers gather information about campus activities and photographers snap pictures all year long. The rewards and the trials of yearbook work serve as balances for one another through the year, and the rewards eventually win out with the first glimpse of the finished product.

Many memories have been made in 1982 and 1983; memories which we have attempted to capture in the 280 page volume that you hold here.

This past year as editor-in-chief has been a year of growth and greater awareness for me. A great deal of responsibility comes with the title editor; I have had good teachers as well as excellent examples to follow as I planned the book, I have collected many personal memories which will not show up in these pages but they will remain just the same. I have memories of late, late nights and early morning hours, Tower adventures, hundreds of OB and Homecoming pictures, studying in the office, computer notes to the "Gang" and much more.

I am deeply indebted to the many people who made my job as editor so much easier. Thank you very, very much Chad, Wendy, John, Larry, Hope, Jim, Deb, Charlene, Robin, and Lore for all the responsibility that you all handled so well. Also thank you Mary McDonald — you took a delicate task and handled it beautifully. I am also grateful to all of my friends for their help and understanding when deadlines came close.

The yearbook has been a challenge that I was happy to meet head on, and doing a good job became my major goal for my senior year. I could only imagine and speculate about the end results. I only hope that you are as pleased with the 1983 edition of The Bridge as I am.

The Bridge 1983

A quiet place and free time to study are often rare commodities for GCC students. The problem stems from one source: activity. Meetings and dinners keep the average student on his toes and on the run. Grovers are involved in many groups in pursuit of a career or better yet for just plain fun!

The Labor is Plentiful

What do the Protestant work ethic and Grove City College have in common? Both encourage ACTIVITY and discourage idleness. Grove City, in fact, offers numerous campus organizations which all feverishly compete for students' time and generously reward participants with feelings of accomplishment, items for resumes, and pictures in the yearbook!

Because Grove City espouses high academic standards and encourages students to whole-heartedly pursue their respective fields of study, many campus organizations recognize academic excellence. Numerous honoraries laud scholastic achievement and leadership. Students' high attainments are first recognized during the sophomore year with Crown and Sceptre and Round Table. In the junior and senior years, students may be considered for Omicron Delta Kappa. Scroll and Key is an honor reserved for members of the senior class and is awarded solely on the basis of academic achievements.

Many campus activities are based upon common interests in major and/or prospective careers. Through such organizations as the Accounting Society and Fellowship of Christian Educators, students can help to prepare themselves for future occupations and professional pursuits.

Grove City's Christian perspective permeates its campus activities. Countless Bible studies, fellowships, and outreach programs are available throughout the campus. In addition, the campus is provided with Christian unity through Salt Co.'s weekly meetings and frequent social activities.

One especially satisfying benefit of keeping busy through campus activities is that of substantially helping others. Grove City students frequently make this the pervading motif in their activities. Organizations such as Student Activities for the Elderly (S.A.F.E.) and Circle K conscientiously make their primary objectives that of helping others.

Grove City also encourages students to develop their own individual talents. Aspiring actors and musicians can be fulfilled by the numerous dramatic and musical activities on campus. The Chapel Choir and numerous other singing groups are available for those endowed with the gift of song.

It certainly cannot be said that Grovers are "all work and no play." The many athletic teams on campus provide both competition for those endowed with athletic prowess as well as recreation for enthusiastic fans. For those whose coordination lacks luster and muscles sag from infrequent activity, numerous intramural sports are available which provide both exercise and fun! In addition, the campus' fraternities and sororities provide many social activities which often benefit not only their members, but also the enture campus.

There are many organizations which help to make other campus activities "run smoothly." The Student Government Association, Men's Governing Board, and Association of Women Students all concentrate their efforts on making life more enjoyable here at the Grove. In addition numerous campus publications such as The Crimson, The Collegian, and The Bridge provide information and documentation of campus activities.

Of course the key which unlocks the secret to Grove City's many organizations is their participants. With the over 140 organizations on campus it is difficult for one to imagine ever being bored! Grove City, therefore is very true to its Protestant principles, especially its work ethic. The labor is truly plentiful, so get busy!

Grove City College has an excellent sports program which includes 13 varsity teams and 2 athletic clubs. Both men's and women's teams are fiercely competitive and Grover athletes consistently struggle to the top. The college's intramural program has also been extensively developed and offers everyone ample opportunity to "let off steam." Whether it be tennis or track, GCC has it and it's guaranteed that Grover faces will be in those athletic fields and courts ready to give their all!

Like Charles Dickens' A Tale of Two Cities, the young Grove City College Soccer Team had its share of "the best of times" and "the worst of times" in the 1982 season.

Among the bright spots of the year was the fact that this year's booters were a young team with only two returning seniors. Since both Lee Wishing and Scot Pennell were plagued all season by injuries, many of the young players received valuable playing time under the direction of Coach Don Lyle.

Although the team posted a record which included only 6 wins, season highlights included key wins over Gannon, Allegheny, Geneva, Alliance, Behrend, and Edinboro State colleges. Disappointingly, the Grove City team lost in the last minute to Fredonia college and also suffered defeat at the hands of Slippery Rock and Bethany colleges.

Several underclassmen rose to the top during this year of experience. Keith "Benny Hill" Martin and his cohort Tom Shupe gave up only 2.4 goals per game while saving 150 shots. The defensive action of Kevin Gunning, Don Templin, George Gretzing, and Jim Pekins who also was the team's leader in assists. Sophomore Nick Butterworth led the team in scoring with 7 goals with Jim Pekins following closely behind him with 6 goals.

Veteran Coach Don Lyle looks forward to the 1983 season when 16 letter winners return to combine forces with the new recruits. Seven of those returning seniors have already set a goal to revisit the NCAA division playoffs which they enjoyed in their freshman year.

Grove City College's Football Team suffered a disappointing season in 1982. There were many young starters returning and the squad was anxious to start what they thought would be a fine season. But, the unpredictables of football descended upon Grove City, Pennsylvania. Last second losses occurred twice, dismal weather marred the Grovers' passing attack and injuries were quite abundant.

There were bright spots, however. The season opener was played on television against Duquesne University at Three Rivers Stadium. It was truly an unforgettable experience. The college also benefitted from the game due to a publicity promotion speech delivered by Dr. MacKenzie which aired at halftime of the contest.

The most exciting game of the year was played against Frostburg State College. The players were cheered by a large crowd — something the players really appreciated — and the two offensive teams played wide-open football. It was a game in which the team with the ball last would win. Unfortunately, FSC scored to win with no time on the clock.

Homecoming 1982 was a complete success. A large Homecoming Crowd cheered loudly throughout and lovely Holly McCoun presided over the festivities. Grove City's Wolveriness responded with a strong performance and a blowout in their favor over Oberlin College, 28-6.

In any team sport, strong friendships are made. It will be very difficult to not have this year's graduating seniors around in the locker room. On the field, players sweat and ache; in the locker room players joke and laugh and sometimes cry. It is in the lockerroom that the emotion can truly be felt. Seniors Jim Leetch, Ray Balzer, Mark Brody, Jeff Slavin, Craig Steen, David Felt and Jim Roberts all graduated. These player's abilities as well as their personalities will be missed. They will be in all the players' minds for a long time.

Turning to 1983, Grove City has all of its skill position personnel returning and Coach Kopnisky has decided to open the offense up quite a bit. It will be an exciting brand of football to watch. Please plan to attend the Grover's 1983 version as it will be well loaded and should be quite exciting to watch.

Aquatic Allstars

They work hard from September until March, back and forth in the same pool, greeted by the same walls, sometimes through two workouts a day. Despite drying chlorine and cold water, they find enough motivation within to consistantly post winning records over the years. The clock is their spectre, always reminding them that they must go faster, faster, faster. Meets bring out psyche and adrenalin, evoking top performances from some, and leaving everyone drained at their conclusion. "New Riders" on the busride home, sudden sneezing attacks (?), split sheets circulating . . . welcome to the life of a Grove City Swimmer.

The 1982-83 men's swimming team has one quality that is consistantly a part of Coach Longnecker's teams — they win. In the past four years, the team has dropped only 9 meets in 55 outings. This year's success can be attributed to a total team effort. Freshmen David Chase (breastroke), Kevin Stevenson (breast-/free) and Tom Martin (sprints) started off their careers on the right foot, adding much needed depth in their events. Seventeen returning lettermen let their experience show to their best advantage on their way to posting their 26th consecutive winning season under Coach Loignecker.

For four years, six very special people have been pouring their time, energy, and heart into making the swimming team an outstanding one. Senior tri-captain Pat Bateman, who hails from Roanoke, VA, makes an impression on everyone with whom he comes in contact. A distance man, Pat is at his best in the long races, such as the 1000 and the 1650.

Augie Beyer, senior tri-captain from Coraopolis, Pa. has carried the team's butterfly events since arriving as a freshman. His stroke is one that you never tire of watching, especially when he is in his usual position: half a pool length ahead of his competition.

Few swimmers can make a claim like senior Larry Frauen's of Murrysville, Pa. Since joining the team as a freshman, Larry has competed in practically every event, from the 100 backstroke to the 1000 freestyle! His versatility and ability to perform when the pressure is on have made him an indispensible team member.

When he isn't skiing, bouncing off cliffs with the outing club, or making computers, senior Dave Peltz of Warren, OH is churning out good spring times. He is in his glory at Penn-Ohios, where his times always drop.

D^2, Diver Dan; call him what you want, senior tri-captain Dan Young of Erie, Pa. has it all together this year. He was left with a big responsibility when Chris Van De Mark graduated last year, but he has had no trouble taking up the slack. His friendly, outgoing personality makes it easy for him to handle the abuse dished out to him by the swimmers.

Because of knee problems, Keith Bullion of Bethel Park, Pa. stopped swimming after his sophomore year and became an assistant coach. An easy way out? No — 6:00 am practices to oversee, complaints, listening to Coach's jokes . . . OB has taken it all in stride. His ear is always handy to sound off in, and he has a way of . . . uh . . . tempering some comments before they reach Coach Longneckers's ears.

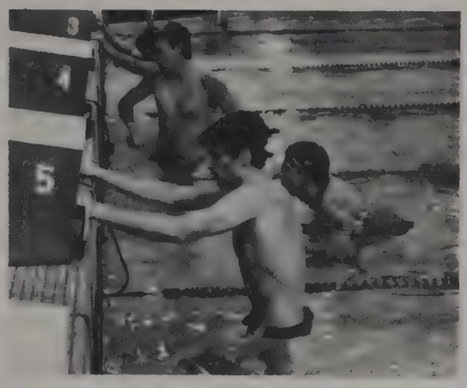

An unseen advantage that Grove City has always had is our fans. This year has been no different. What would a meet be like without the support of the Beyers and the Riesmeyers?! We will probably never know. The Grauens, the Daylidas, the Johnsons in their diver shirts, the Flemings to name a few — its hard to lose with such a loyal crowd behind you. Thanks!

While the heat of the summer still penetrated the air, the women's tennis team arrived on campus during the first week of September to prepare for what proved to be another successful season. For the third straight year, the Lady Wolverines captured the Women's Keystone Title by finishing their season with a 11-1 record.

Entering the 1982 season with a 24 game winning streak, and the toughest schedule ever ahead of them, the girls knew that they had to be at the top of their game in order to remain successful.

After opening their season with a 9-0 win over Westminster, the women went on to defeat Robert Morris, Clarion State, Geneva, W & J, Mercyhurst, Edinboro, Behrend, and Thiel, falling only to Slippery Rock in a match that ended after 4 ½ hours of high-level competition. The disappointing loss, however, did not discourage the lady wolverines. They went on to finish their season with a 6-3 victory over Allegheny, clinching the conference title with a perfect 6-0 record.

Lisa Davis, who played the #3 spot for four consecutive years, finished her career with 1980 and 1981 All-Conference titles and 45 total career points. Looking back over the past four years, Lisa comments, "I think that I have matured in the spirit of competition. I consider competition to be a close analogy of life. You do your best and give it your all — you learn to be a good loser and a graceful winner — it teaches you a lot about yourself."

Coach Patricia Zbell, comments on the '82 season saying, "This is the strongest and best team Grove City has ever had! Each position was power-packed with a high level of skill which gave us tremendous depth. Our reserves had the ability to produce when called upon. It took a team effort to achieve our goals. They proved that they were the best and came through with the points when we needed them. The key ingredient of our success — belief in ourselves!"

NCAA Bound

Like a well-oiled machine, the women's volleyball team smoothly won their third straight Women's Keystone Conference Championship with a 14-0 mark. They did well against tough competition in three different tournaments, and merited their fourth straight post-season tournament invitation. They ended their regular season play with an impressive 35-7 record, with 6 of those losses to Division II and Division III nationally-ranked teams.

The team was lead by co-captains Natalie Sutyak and Jill Nixon, the latter of which is described by her coach as of which is described by her coach as the "best court player we have ever had." Natalie and Holly Over were voted to the Women's Keystone All-Conference 1st team with June Hart and Ann Shultz elected to the 2nd team. In addition, Natalie Sutyak held the distinct honor of being named an All-American by the Collegiate Volleyball Coaches Association and was elected to the All-Tournament Team at Juniata College and the NCAA Regional Tournament Team. Natalie is the first women's varsity participant to be selected for national honors from Grove City College. "Natalie has been an prime example for these young players," says Coach Ellis. "From a physical, spiritual, and emotional standpoint, she is a leader both on and off the court. We're going to miss her."

Hosting a tournament match for the first time, the women started the playoffs with a 3-1 conquest of Mt. Holyoke, the Massachusetts State Champion who had a 22-match winning streak. The squad then proceeded to defeat Macalester College in three games to advance to the quarter finals of the NCAA III playoffs. This placed the women in a select group of top 8 colleges in the nation out of 242 in Division III. Pitted against Juniata College, they dueled for over 2 hours before succumbing 3-2 in a challenging and exciting match. Although the team was disappointed by the loss after having come so far, they were to be proud of their accomplishments. Their talents and enthusiasm carried them through an exciting and successful season.

Harriers Battle Hard

As the summer commences in June, cross country runners begin their vigorous training. Throughout the summer they "pound the pavement", accumulating endurance and increasing speed, while also withstanding the summer's brutal heat and experiencing the pain of overwrought limbs. In September they begin to reap the benefits of their strenuous summer training.

Cross-country places each runner in vigorous competition with himself as well as opposing runners. It involves pushing oneself toward one's physical limits and allows one's mind to shatter the threshold of pain. Each individual sets goals for each day, week, meet, and race: as well as striving for personal satisfaction and honor for the team.

This year the 1982 Grove City Cross-Country Team was comprised of 18 dedicated athletes. Although smaller and younger than teams in prior years, this year's team finished with 5 wins, 6 losses and placed 14th among 28 teams at the NCAA Division III qualifier.

Leading the Harriers this year was Captain Dean McHenry, who had an exceptional season as the team's number one runner. Doug Reno, Randy Wells, Don Sawyer, Keith Vespoor, Tom Mulhein, and Phil Grove rounded out the top seven members. Dan Ranta and Dan Goncz were especially strong toward the end of the season and are expected to substantially help the team next year. Despite being plagued by injuries which forced them to shorten their seasons, Steve Moore and Scott Kelly both made vital contributions to the team. Tom Hoover, Dave Paule, Tim Cashdollar, Mike Montswirl, and Dave Glick are promising performers for next year's team. In addition, Kathy Miller, the only female runner, is also projected to have a good season next year. After three months of training this summer, these athletes will be ready for what promises to be a very successful season in 1983.

Finishing with a 4th place standing in UPI NCAA Division III rankings and a record of twenty season wins, Grove City College Men's Basketball team returned to campus to reap the rewards of the most successful season in the history of GCC Men's Basketball.

Co-Captains Bob Crow, Grove City's all-time 2nd leading scorer, and Mark Smith, a senior 1000 point scorer for the Wolverines, led the 1982-1983 team to their eventual goal of the NCAA Division III Mid-Atlantic Regional Championships where they competed in first round competition.

Coach Barr attributed the teams outstanding success to the squad's optimistic attitude and desire for the game. Earlier in the season, Coach Barr inspired, "Our players have come to maturity by developing the mental attitude of knowing what it takes to win."

The explosive talents of juniors Jody Peters, Doug Weygandt, Mark Zimmerman and Jim Kanable advanced the yearly point average of the Wolverines and left the crowd with a sense of anticipation for the 1983-1984 season as each of these juniors return to start for the team.

As a sophomore, Kurt Siverling contributed his skills to promote the Wolverine momentum in the middle of the season. Kurt promises to be a needed asset of the squad next year.

Good, Better, Best!

Most people are taught that winning is the primary measure of success. Although this is not necessarily true, after a great deal of hard work and discipline, the Lady Wolverines excelled beyond expectations to produce a phenomenal year with a successful season record of 22 wins and 5 losses. The Lady Wolverines promptly gained the position of the WKC banner, to prove who was good, who was better, and who was the best in the conference.

Co-Captain, Betsy Shaw, led the Lady Wolverines to their eventual goal of National Playoffs where they advanced to second round action. Ms. Walters, coach of the squad, was blessed with two outstanding seniors, Betsy Shaw and Jody Imbrie, a 2000 point career scorer for the team. Their inspirational faith and dynamic personalities sparked the morale of the team, causing a close sisterhood to result with the rest of the team.

Underclassmen Jill Sinclair and Holly Withers contributed their energies to help earn the green and white banner now hanging in the arena.

A Christmastime excursion to the Hawaiian Islands added still more victories to the Wolverine's record as they defeated the teams from the Islands. As Ms. Ellis loses two outstanding seniors to graduation ceremonies, she and the Wolverine fans anticipate the 1983-84 season when the best becomes even better!

Poor weather conditions slowed the progress of the 1983 Wolverine diamondmen as they finished with a 4-10 record.

Coach Jack Behringer encouraged his young players with lone senior Rusty Laubach at the helm as they split a double-header with Behrend College. The wolverines dropped the first game, but came back to blank out Behrend's team 2-0.

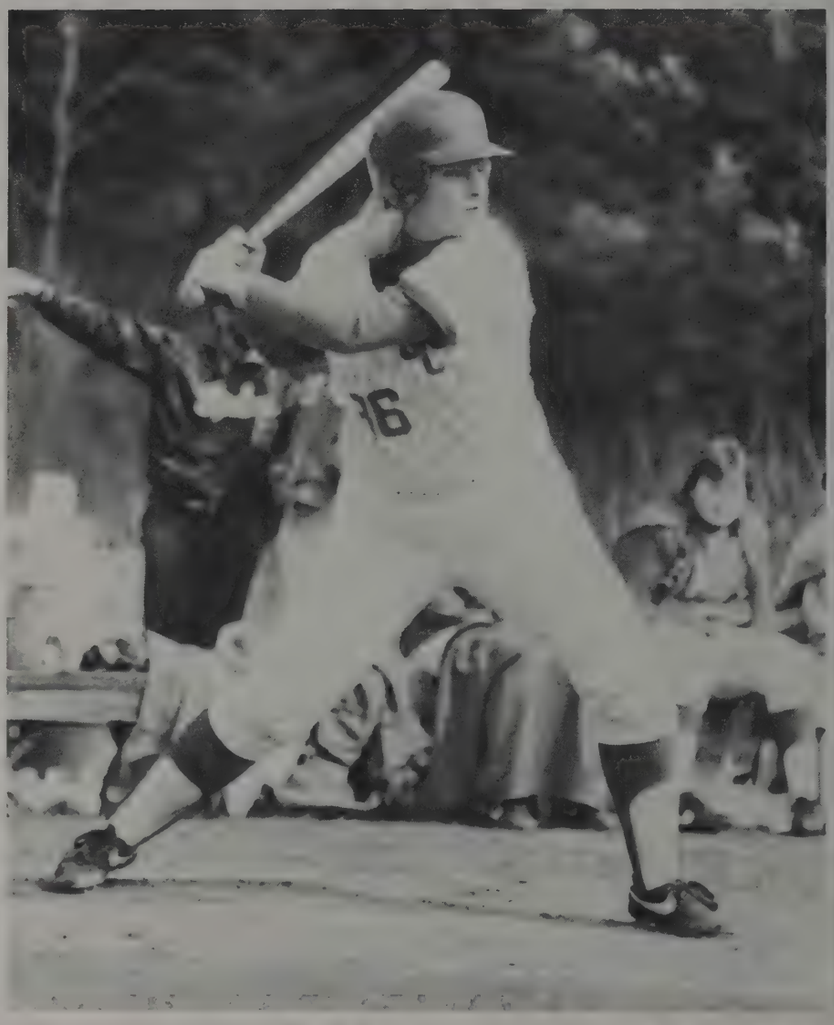

Wins also came over rival Geneva College, and the team topped W & J in both games of the two-game series.

The young team — the "diamonds in the rough" — will return polished and ready for an exciting season in 1984.

A Pitch Toward Rebuilding

With only one returning senior on the fourteen member squad, Coach Don Lyle foresaw the 1983 GCC Women's Softball season as a season for rebuilding. Co-captains Gretchen Librock and Kay Hawthorne led the team through inclement weather to a modest 3-7 record.

Despite the young team, consisting of 8 sophomores and 4 freshmen, Coach Lyle spoke confidently of their skills and attitudes when he inspired, "I'm very pleased with the ladies this year. They're very hard workers and enthusiastic about the program."

Long practices and a demanding three-week season tested the ladies to their limits physically and scholastically, yet, at its close, they collectively agreed that the 1984 season will promise to hold a pitch toward victory.

Stepping toward a pitch is Mary Waltman.

Executing a bunt is Denise Young.

Fleet of Foot

Varsity records fell and new marks were set as the Wolverine harriers led by senior co-captains Dean McHenry and Jeff O'Block completed their second straight season with an unblemished record.

Coaches Jim Longnecker and Chris Smith saw two records fall at Robert E. Thorn Field. Senior Jeff O'Block broke the 110 meter high hurdles record in :15.38, erasing a two-year-old record of :15.6. Freshman Jim McElhaney added ten inches to the shot put record with a throw of 50'4". the mark of 14'6" has held up for 30 years. McElhaney's toss also established a new varsity record.

Four other varsity records were set. The team victories were over Walsh, Westminster, Bethany, Geneva, and W & J. The overall balance of the Wolverines paid off as they won the Wooster Invitational for the third straight year this time over six other colleges.

GCC Netters On The Ball

Experienced best describes the 1983 Men's Tennis Team. Four of the top six players were seniors and helped to lead the team to an excellent 9-1 record.

Senior Tim Kirk concluded his collegiate career with a 20-0 singles mark over three seasons to become Grove City's winningest singles player with a 38-6 record.

Another four year letterman, Jeff Morgan played in the number 1 singles spot and also finished with an excellent record. Seniors Tom West and Pete Boettke will also be sorely missed.

Coach Walters will still have his numbers two and three singles player Keith Swope and Chris Christensen returning to rebuild a strong winning team in the 1984 season.

Weather conditions dictated the brevity of the Wolverines' 1983 golf season. Rounding out the top six for the team were Steve Van Eerden, Paul Lowrey, Gary Lewis, and Tim O'Brien.

Coach Bell Allen hardly had a chance to determine his best players due to the miserable weather conditions — nine players saw varsity action in the rain-shortened season. Rain won out this year over golf, but then rain, for Grove City, is par for the course!

Although the college has always been represented as a beautiful campus and well-preserved buildings, the fond memories that remain in alumni's minds are not of that sort of college. Grove City College is a vibrant community of students and of faculty. The true college is not set in the rigid architecture of Harbison Chapel; it is carried farther and farther as its alumni spread to all corners of the world.

PEOPLE

Senior Class Officers: Suzie Elfers, Social Affairs Senator; Jackie Black, Student Affairs Senator; Mark Podvia, Secretary-Treasurer; Brent Ottaway, President; Kassi Kesner, Academic Affairs Senator.

TAP member Mark Williams welcomes alumni at Homecoming.

Class for a change

Quite the opposite of Spring which comes in like a lion and goes out like a lamb, the members of the graduating class of 1983 stumbled into life at the Grove as freshmen overwhelmed by how very busy college could be and departed four years older and wiser with all the self-assurance and maturity that college life had to offer.

The senior class adapted to the many changes which took place in their time at GCC. New buildings were erected and others simply ceased to exist. Life in Colonial was embroidered upon by the veteran seniors to regale the freshmen with how easy life cound be living in Ketler: "At least you have washers, we did our wash in town," and "You never had to hike clear up to the upper campus for an 8:00 class in the middle of January either," were comments which were overheard. Off-campus housing was eliminated and intervisitation, without a twelve-inch rule, was extended.

The seniors evolved from the awkward freshmen who settled into college life maturing to become adults ready and eager to enter the job market. Jeans and preppy attire were put aside as employment seeking Grovers donned conservative business suits. Resumes and cover letters by the thousands flooded the mailways and in return, rejection letters and news of second interviews and actual job offers colored seniors' conversations.

Graduation is another milestone for the class of 1983 to pass and another signal of change. And, as we graduate, we are faced with what has been termed the state's worst job outlook in 43 years. We now must adjust to life outside the Bubble. The "Real World" will be different.

That's OK — the change will do us good.

That Extra Mile

How many of us would be willing to give up social activities to work out three to eight hours a day to prepare for a grueling competition in an effort to acquire self-discipline? Senior Pat Bateman did just that when he readied himself for the Iron Man Triathalon in Roanoke, Virginia during the summers of 1981 and 1982.

A typical day for Pat consisted of a one-hour swim in the morning followed by an hour bicycle ride before work and another hour's bike ride following the run. Weekends were especially vital to Pat's conditioning as he had additional "free" time to get in shape, including a 20-mile run every Sunday morning. He really earned his nightly seven hours of sleep!

The triathalon competition originated in Hawaii and is now spreading nationwide. Pat was fortunate to have a course in his "backyard" in Roanoke which extends through the scenic Blue Ridge Mountains. The event involves 20 miles of running, 2 miles of swimming, and 50 miles of biking over hilly terrain.

Pat's dedication, which he attributes largely to the support of his father, paid off as he experienced the thrill of victory and the agony of "the feet." He placed first in the contest during the summer of 1981, setting a course record of 6 hours — 9 minutes.

Pat considers participating in the triathalon one of his most enjoyable life's experiences, but he asserts that, "The biggest gain, of course, is in understanding oneself, without even getting philosophical about it. The constant training and pushing yourself enables you to learn your own limits and how to make the most of what you've got. Self-confidence is another area of great growth I experienced and controlling emotions — talk about self-control!"

His post-graduation plans include biking cross-country or in Canada during the next few months, with no particular destination in mind. Still, it's certain that he'll know when he's arrived. For, when it comes to exhibiting the spirit of determination and striving for a goal, Pat Bateman is one individual willing to go the extra mile.

"From Wolverine . . . to Homecoming Queen"

Grove City legend has it that "Willie the Wolverine" first arose from his home below Wolf Creek in 1938. Well, Wolf Creek has changed since 1938, and so has Grove City college's "Wolverine."

Senior Holly McCoun first donned "Willie's" familiar grey fur and friendly, yet fearsome smiling head in the middle of her Sophomore year. Since then, Holly has entertained countless crowds at Wolverine football and basketball games. Holly admits that the Wolverine "brings out the ham in you," however, it also brings out spirit throughout the campus. In fact, generating school spirit has been Holly's primary commitment during her four years at Grove City. She has demonstrated this not only by bringing "Willie the Wolverine" to life, but also by aggressively participating on Grove City's Women's tennis team. Holly has also been extremely active in S.G.A., serving as secretary of the executive council for 2 years, and in AWS, serving as vice-president for one year. In addition, for two years Holly was the secretary of W.A.A. and has been a W.A.A. manager for four years. During both her sophomore and junior years, Holly graced the May court during Parents' Weekend. Homecoming Weekends have been very busy occasions for Holly, her junior year she was both the "Wolverine" and Homecoming Junior Chairman. This year, Holly was Homecoming Chairman, but was compelled to temporarily trade "Willie the Wolverine's" head for the Homecoming Queen's crown! Throughout her four years at Grove City, Holly has truly been the embodiment- of both the spirit-filled "Wolverine" and the gracious, outgoing Homecoming Queen!

Encore!

The stage is set. The house lights go down while the musicians wait in the wings in anticipation of the magic about to happen. When the lights come up and the initial pulsating note vibrates in the auditorium, everyone involved senses a rapport which may only be described as a communication of spirit. Leading the ensemble is their director, senior Craig Dye, an individual who exemplifies the idea that music is and extension of life itself.

Craig's interest in music began very early in life; his most vivid memories are of the constant music which pervaded his home's atmosphere. The parental influence was very strong; his mother was a pianist and his father, a semi-pro trumpet player "who gave me my start."

Although the trumpet is Craig's major instrument, he also dabbles in the guitar, acoustic and electronic keyboards and percussion. He learned to play these latter instruments while at Grove City, though he does not consider them performance instruments for himself. His primary interest lies in writing and performing jazz with his trumpet in a smaller group setting.

Craig's musical education has been a continuous process which gained momentum during his high school years, during which he played in a top-notch jazz ensemble at North Allegheny in Wexford, PA. The summer following his sophomore year at Grove City College, Craig toured Europe, playing lead trumpet for the American Youth Jazz West. For a month they toured Belgium, Germany, Switzerland, France, and the Netherlands. A highlight of the tour was Craig's opportunity to play at the Montreux International Jazz Festival, the largest jazz festival in the world, which is held in Montreux, Switzerland each summer.

Believing that the major reward of musical performance is the opportunity to bring a message to the audience, Craig comments, "With the Jazz Ensemble many times the music is of such intensity that one sitting in the audience can experience a deep musical conversation. At that point, the instrumentalists and the audience become actively envolved with each other. This is when music is its most rewarding."

According to Craig, the greatest "plus" of the music department at Grove City College is the opportunity for performance. At a small school, one with Craig's talents is very much in demand; he has been able to do it all: jazz, classical, religious and popular music in just about every kind of ensemble size and setting. Craig likens the experience to that of a studio session player.

Craig considers the Grove City Jazz Ensemble to have been a major stepping-stone in his musical career, having given him his most valued education in playing and directing. In summing up the success of the Jazz Ensemble, Craig explains, "We are more than merely a bunch of musicians playing music; we are all friends involved in a musical creation." Encore!

And That's The News

To most people, the evening news involves nothing more than turning on the television set and selecting the station which features their favorite anchorperson. Those behind the scenes realize, however, that producing the news is a process involving constant decision-making and countless revisions before the final version goes on the air.

Senior Beverly Arnold had the opportunity to participate in an internship program for WHTM TV-27, an ABC affiliate, in Harrisburg, PA. She worked fifty-plus hours per week for six weeks during the summer of 1982 at this station, which holds the fifty-first position of 150 for market size.

Working three alternate shifts which began as early as 6:15 a.m. and ran until midnight or later, Bev earned a lot of hands-on experience in a full range of activities. The mornings found her either serving as floor director or cameraperson or running the teleprompter for newsbriefs. She also was able to do on-the-scene reporting for soundbites, including coverage of center-city fires and accidents. Bev's responsibilities included typing up these stories for the anchorperson as well as editing the entire package for the soundbite.

When she wasn't involved in these capacities, Bev served as a "go-fer," making rounds to the local hospitals, police boroughs, and fire stations to uncover any possible story leads. On occasion she accompanied key reporters and cameramen to exclusive press conferences at the court house and the Capitol, at which time she carried the heavy equipment and set up microphones. Additional duties included time-coding the daily electronic feed, which is the ABC network series of stories provided to local stations, and running the teleprompter for the live 6:00 and 11:00 p.m. broadcasts.

The versatility of her responsibilities and the cooperative effort of the station's staff members were the most enjoyable aspects of the internship. As Bev commented, "I learned that the most important people involved with the newscasts are behind the scenes. The whole newscasts was a group effort. Everyone's task, no matter how menial, played a crucial role."

Bev has found the offerings of Grove City's Communication Arts department an excellent base upon which to build. Although she believes that an internship is essential to gain the further knowledge necessary for any media career, Bev asserts that Grove City has provided the environment for students to gain the self-confidence needed to pursue a successful career, no matter the field.

And that's the news.

War-torn Heartland

Most Americans are vaguely familiar with the events that transpired in Beruit, Lebanon during the summer of 1982. Few, however, are truly informed of the atrocities which plagued that war-torn land. Senior, Sara Bailey, is painfully aware of the heinous acts which have ravaged her homeland.

Sara and her family who are United Presbyterian missionaries, have lived in Beirut, Lebanon where her father teaches at a seminary, for over 17 years. Of those years, 8 have been spent in war starting with the Lebanese Civil War in 1975 and more recently with the Israeli siege of Beirut throughout the summer of 1982. During this most recent carnage, Sara and her family were forced to evacuate West Beirut in late June, spending the next four weeks in Cyprus while wondering if they would ever again see the friends and personal belongings they left behind.

On August 1, Sara and her father reentered West Beirut only to find a land far different from the city which had been their home. Israeli soldiers, often armed with American-made weapons, clamored through the streets of the devastated city. Stores, utilities, hospitals, and schools were no longer functioning. The streets, once filled with merchants, shoppers, and tourists, were now replete with foreign troups from many nations and with hordes of homeless people. The city Sara had known so well was literally unrecognizable. Miraculously, Sara's family's apartment was virtually unscathed. Of course, they were then forced to suffer the inconveniences of living in a city void of virtually all common amenities, but they did still have a home which was far more than most of the city's one million inhabitants. Despite the dangers and inconveniences still besetting Beirut, upon graduation Sara plans to return to her home in the Middle East.

Sara, a history major, has studied the historical accounts of numerous wars of mankind throughout her courses. Unlike most students, however, who must conjure mental images of these confrontations, Sara can most vividly picture all of the atrocities such conflicts can bring. Sara has, in effect, done far more than merely study history, she has watched it unfold before her and has experienced the same despair and disbelief war has produced for centuries.

Juniors

"Your junior year is the best one, enjoy it while you can," is a statement that third year college students often hear from harried seniors. It does, in fact, seem to be true; juniors are at their peak in involvement in college life, yet they don't have to worry about resumes, job interviews, or graduate school boards. It's time to sit back and enjoy. Starting with the popular Ice Cream Social in September, the class of 1984 sponsored many social events with that intent in mind. Some other junior class endeavors included the entertaining All-College Talent Show, the juice and cheeser, live Gee entertainment with Buffalo chicken wings, and various other Friday night lives.

On her way to lunch after classes, Beth Cassetti cuts through MAP Quad.

It's a Small World

The saying goes that "Growing up is hard to do," but take a young American boy and transplant him to a foreign country over-seas and what happens? Well, if that young man is Dave Marshall, Class of 1984, he makes the adjustment and returns to the United States with a greater understanding of what it means to be an American.

Beginning in 1970, Dave spent his formative years in Belgium. His father who works for the Department of Defense was transferred to the Supreme Headquarters of the Allied Powers in Europe (S.H.A.P.E.), the military headquarters of NATO.

Dave attended an American school which taught military dependents. Although he and the other students participated in the same activities as high school students in the United States, the number of students was fewer; Dave graduated in a class of 63.

The cultural differences which Dave experienced involved more than just the obvious language barrier. Still, since most of the native Belgians spoke French, "I used a lot of sign language and pointed a lot." Another inconvenience involved the poor phone system: "Making a long-distance phone call was next to impossible." Some of the differences were more pleasant, such as the unhurried lifestyle of the people. "They drive fast, but once they arrive at their destination, they're in no hurry. It's not uncommon to have 3 ½-4 hour meals."

According to Dave, the best part of the experience involved the fantastic opportunity to travel. "It was great. In fifteen minutes I could be in France, in Germany in an hour, and in Holland in 1 ½ hours." Unfortunately, the weather is rarely cooperative; it rains over 200 days out of the year and the rest of the time the skies are overcast.

Dave, whose home base is in Gibsonia, never lost contact with his family in the United States. The fact that some of his relatives are so close at hand was one reason why Dave decided to attend Grove City College. Other factors influencing his decision included the small, Christian atmosphere, the offering of Air Force ROTC, and the programs in engineering and physics.

Satisfied with his choice, Dave experiences the best of both worlds. He returns to his family in Belgium during the summer and at Christmas when he enjoys skiing in the Alps. While here, he enjoys his family and friends in the States, which include Garet Romeo, a friend at Grove City who just so happened to have attended a "rival" school in Belgium. Small world!

A Summer in the House

Brian Must, '84, attributes his appointment as a congressional intern to sheer "luck." Not having any pull in Washington or any "political connections," Brian was both surprised and delighted to learn of his summer appointment to the staff of Rep. Gene Akinson, (Republican — 4th district, PA).

Brian assumed far more responsibilities than most congressional interns. His duties generally consisted of answering correspondence, conducting research, and most importantly, constantly familiarizing himself with Congressman 'Atkinson's opinions on current issues. In addition to these more "conventional" duties, Brian's responsibilities also included some computer programming and far more personal communication with constituents than most interns enjoy. The high point of Brian's summer activities, however, came when he was asked to deliver a speech to a group of visiting constituents after Congressman Atkinson had been suddenly called away on other business. This was quite a memorable moment for Brian, who addressed the crowd as it gathered on the front lawn of the White House!

Throughout the summer, Brian was able to recognize that even amidst the "rat race" of Washington politics, it is still vital not to "lose sight of humanity." This was aptly demonstrated by Congressman Atkinson himself who, despite his very busy schedule, made a point to personally take Brian out to lunch at least once a week. Brian has other momentos of the "humanitarian side" of politics, including an autographed picture from the Vice-President, whom he met during the summer.

Through his experience this summer, Brian observed that the "corruption" in Washington is "not as bad as people make it out to be." Brian attributes this to Watergate which has compelled politicians to take every precaution to avoid any negative press. Brian was, however, somewhat surprised by the "cut-throat competition" which prevails in Washington.

An Economics/Pre-law major, Brian found himself to be the "lone conservative" in the Congressman's office, other than Representative Atkinson himself. Brian soon earned the title of the "Milton Friedman" of Congressman Atkinson's staff. Despite this apparent lack of camaradarie, Brian clung to his stalwart conservatism, hoping to leave an "impact" on the other staff members.

Although he has been offered a summer position with the Republican National Committee, Brian has chosen to remain at home this summer to spend some time with family and friends there. Brian cherishes the memories of his "once in a lifetime" experience in Washington, but realizes that they are moments which "can't be relived."

Sophomores

Everyone always hears of the "sophomore slump" which strikes every unsuspecting second year college student. This year, rather than sitting back and allowing that to happen, the class of 1985 kept busy working to avoid the "slump." Lead by class president Mary Pat Reed, the sophomores sponsored a 12-hour volleyball marathon for the American Cancer Society and collected over one thousand dollars. The class also worked hard to present the Rootbeer and Peanuts night, the Christmas dance, a very successful free hoagy night, and various Friday night lives throughout the year.

Somewhere Over Rainbow Bridge

"Somewhere Over The Rainbow" is easily identifiable as the theme song of L. Frank Baum's The Wizard of Oz, a classic enjoyed by children of all ages. During the summer of 1982, Grove City sophomore David Jobin undertook the task of coordinating and directing this spectacular production for the Aurora Youth Theatre in Ohio.

Sponsored by the adult community theatre in Aurora, the Youth Theatre is a summer theatre for children between the ages of four and eighteen, who perform one musical and one straight play each season. Hired to direct last summer, David selected the plays and was responsible for finding his own crews. He chose The Wizard of Oz "my all-time favorite movie," and rewrote the script to include all the songs from the movie and nearly every line. The Wizard of Oz included a cast of over seventy junior actors. "My cast was incredible. Their likenesses to the original cast were as impressive as their performances were."

The benefit of children's theatre, according to Davis, is that all interested children are able to get involved without the "competiveness of such activities as Little Leagues. Of course not everyone can have a lead — but there is no one sitting on the bench. Everyone contributes and I think it really gives the children a feeling of accomplishment to know that they've helped put on a show which hundreds of people will see." An added bonus of such a production is the marvelous atmosphere it provides for children to make friends with one another.

David's own interest in theatre also began as a child. He first became involved in elementary school plays. "My kindergarten teacher asked me what I wanted to be when I grew up and I said 'a movie star.' "I was a real ham, I guess."

In addition to directing the Aurora Youth Theatre, another highlight for David was his being cast as one of the husbands in Twigs his freshman year, his first acting role in a college play. During his first two years at Grove City, David acted in The Chalk Garden, A Midsummer Night's Dream, and "bounced" his way through the role of "Tigger" in The House at Pooh Corner. David appreciates the many opportunities for theatre involvement at Grove City. The three or four major productions each year, the two children's theatre shows, and the Theta Alpha Phi one-acts provide quality theatre comparable to that of other colleges.

He plans to continue acting but also hopes to learn more about directing and the technical aspects of theatre. Next year, David will be directing Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs for Children's Theatre and hopes to act as assistant director for a major production at Grove City.

Concerning the rewards of acting versus directing, David believes there are benefits to both areas. He contends that directing is much harder but can be more satisfying. "I thought when I directed that I would be envious of the actors applause — but it was even more rewarding being in the audience and being able to see the audience's reaction to the show."

He enjoys his involvement with the theatre at Grove CityCollege so much that he doesn't foresee anything ever limiting it, whichever role he plays, whether it be that of an actor, a director, or a technical crewmember. In David Jobin's case, it's "Somewhere Over Rainbow Bridge" where dreams do come true.

Making Every Moment Count

As mid-terms or finals arrive, it is often easy to complain about what seem to be ridiculous reading assignments, lengthy labs, or impossible papers. At such a time, it is especially refreshing, therefore, to encounter a unique person like Dai Feng. Dai holds a special appreciation for the education to which he directs all of his energy. This unique dedication can be primarily attributed to the fact that Dai has traveled all the way from his homeland of China in order to study here, in the United States.

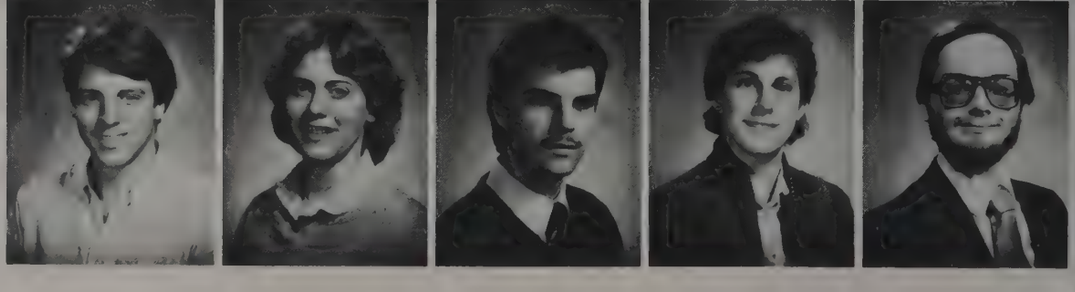

After arriving in the United States in 1979, Dai spent a year in Philadelphia. At that time, Dai accompanied his relatives as they moved to Pittsburgh. Although he had already completed high school and one half of a year of college in China, Dai then entered Upper St. Clair High School in order to increase his familiarity with the English language, of which he only knew a few hundred words. Dai learned a great deal in a short time and enetered GCC as an Electrical Engineering major in the fall of 1981. Incredibly, Dai has taken as many as 20 credits some semesters and has received some Advanced Placement credits which will enable him to graduate in just three years. He then hopes to enter graduate school at either M.I.T. or the University of California at Berkeley.

Dai has observed that academics are not pursued as vigorously here in the United States as they are in China. For example, students in China generally spend much more time studying than do students in the U.S. In this respect, Dai has admirably maintained the values of his native country and is very appreciative of his studies. Academics are extremely important to Dai who has come so far to make the very most of his education.

Freshmen

Labor Day every year ushers in a fine new class of freshmen to GCC and this year was no exception. The OB committee urged the class of 1986 to "Come On Board" and proceeded to involve them in a whirlwind of activities all guaranteed to make the newest Grovers feel right at home. Over the year the freshmen class sponsored such events as the highly successful Christmas Dance in Ketler Rec and the Valentine's Dance. The class also worked hard to help present the Christian rock group Petra in concert on campus.

OB welcomes new Grovers to a new year.

Coming Home Again

At Grove City, it is not uncommon to find students whose parents are alumni of the college. This occurrence in fact, is quite widespread. It is, however, unusual to find students, native to foreign countries whose parents are Grove City graduates. Freshman Silvia Stunkel, whose home is in Bucaramanga, Colombia, is such a student.

When Silvia first expressed interest in studying in the United States, her father a 1956 Business Administration graduate, was very anxious for her to return to his alma mater. Silvia admits, however, that her mother was much less enthusiastic. Since arriving in the U.S. in August, 1982, Silvia has seen much of the country, traveling to Philadelphia, Miami, New Orleans, New York and Tennessee. Of the many places she has visited so far, Silvia considers Walt Diseny World to be her overwhelming favorite.

Silvia's biggest difficulty in coming to Grove City has been in becoming better acquainted with the English language. In addition to the usual difficulties which often arise in adjusting to the rigors of college academics, Silvia has also had to adjust to a new language, new people, and a completely new culture than that which she left in Colombia.

Silvia enjoys, however, the freedom available here which enables her to choose the course of study she desires. In Colombia, most higher education is primarily limited to pre-determined courses, regardless of one's personal preferences. In addition to this freedom within the college itself, Silvia also appreciates an important freedom outside of the college. Silvia enjoys the mobility available through the country's vast highways and transportation system. Because of the opportunities she has enjoyed for education and travel within the United States, Silvia speculates that she might someday make her permanent home here.

DR. JEAN WILSON

"The end of all learning is to know God, and out of that knowledge to love and imitate Him."

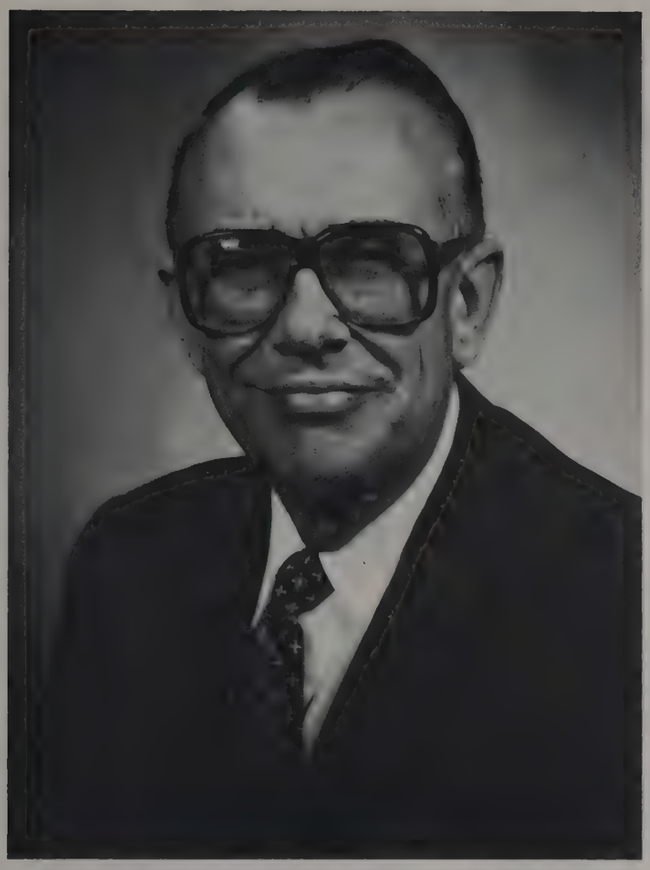

This ideal was embodied in the person of Dr. Jean Wilson, and it is to her that we dedicate this review of the academic year, 1982-1983.

Dr. Wilson was an inspiration to her fellow teachers as well as her students. Many times, even in the late months of her illness, she joyfully made herself available to students for guidance and counseling, even when she did not feel up to it. Her desire to reflect the radiance of Christ in all areas of her life gave her both a gracious dignity and a humble strength, which persisted even during the final months of her life.

Dr. Wilson was a Grover to the innermost part of her heart. Most of her waking hours were spent in connection with her educational work. She considered her involvement in professional organizations for teacher educators a continuous in-service training to keep herself up to date with her field. She was committed to keeping up with what was going on in elementary schools by supervising student teachers. Direct contact with students was one of her dearest loves, especially with those students who were children of her former students and classmates at Grove City.

It has been said of her that Dr. Wilson "lived and breathed" Grove City College. Such dedication is a rare and beautiful thing. She has served the college for 22 years in a quiet, professional manner and has inspired countless educators with her gentle and caring ways. Her selfless example as a servant should be an inspiration to us all. We shall miss her dearly.

We consider what she called her "divinely appointed" conversation with Dr. Harker at a Pittsburgh chapter alumni meeting 22 years ago, which brought her back to Grove City, one of the greatest blessings this college has known. It is with gratitude and affection, then, that we dedicate this issue of The Bridge to Dr. Jean Wilson.
